Chicago, June 25.—"Progressive party" headquarters for Illinois were opened today in the Congress Hotel. Merrill McCormick announced the opening and it was said that permanent officers would be chosen later to take charge of the office work.

Chicago, June 25.—"We will make them sit on and take notice. The Progressive party is the party of the people and the people will rule," this spoke George W. Perkins, supporter of Colonel Roosevelt and one of the leaders in the third party movement, as he left Chicago for the east this afternoon.

Washington, June 25.—A conference of progressive republican senators will be called immediately after the democratic convention to consider the situation developing from the third party movement launched at Chicago. Senators Clapp, Bourne and Cummings met today and discussed the movement. Senators Bristow, Kenyon and Poinsett are away from Washington and when they return, if the alignment of the Democratic party has been shaped at the Baltimore convention, a formal conference of progressive republicans will be held.

BRYAN BEATEN IN VOTE ON PARKER

Receives Support of 510 Delegates while Judge Gets 679.—Clark Boom Grows.

Limited to 15 minutes on a side. Chairman Mack declared the motion carried. C. C. Johnson of Texas rose to make a speech for Bryan. He lauded Bryan and Kern. "All I know," he said, "is that the light is on, that Bryan is on one side and Wall Street on the other."

There were no more speakers and the roll was then called. Alabama's 21 votes were cast for Parker and was immediately challenged. A poll of the delegation was made. The chairman of the delegation said he and his associates were instructed to vote under the unit rule. This was denied by one of the delegates.

The resolutions of instruction to the delegation were read. It ordered the delegation to vote as a unit on all questions affecting Underwood's candidacy. Senator Lea of Tennessee shouted that Underwood's candidacy was not now involved and if the chairman held that the unit rule applied he would appeal from the decision.

The Massachusetts vote was corrected to read 18 for Bryan; 15 for Parker; 3 for O'Gorman. Before an official announcement could be made Senator Lea, representing the Bryan interests, moved that inasmuch as Judge Parker had received 679 votes to 508 for Bryan, the nomination be made unanimous. There were some shouts of "No," but the chairman declared the motion carried.

CHEERS GREET PARKER. Senator Stone, Missouri, Senator Lea and Judge Hughes of New Jersey were named to escort Parker to the chair.

A round of cheers greeted the newly elected chairman as he climbed the steps to the platform. National Chairman Mack confined himself to the mere introduction: "Judge Parker, temporary chairman."

Gradually the hall was quieted and Parker began his keynote speech.

Judge Parker started to read his speech, but was interrupted at the very beginning by the greatest confusion. Thousands of persons in the gallery content with having witnessed the big fight, started to leave the hall. Many of the delegates began to move about on the floor. The confusion was such that Representative Fitzgerald put a motion to recess until 8:00 p. m. basing it on the ground that the delegates were tired out. The motion was put and carried at 3:47 p. m. when the recess was ordered.

THE VOTE BY STATES.

The vote on temporary chairman follows: Alabama: Parker, 21-12; Bryan, 11-3. Arizona: Bryan, 4; Parker, 2. Arkansas: Parker, 18. California: Parker, 18; Bryan, 7, Kern, 1. Indiana: Parker, 21; Bryan, 8, one not voting. Iowa: Parker, 13; Bryan, 13. Kansas: Bryan, 20. Kentucky: Parker, 18-12; Bryan, 7-12. Louisiana: Parker, 10; Bryan, 10. Maine: Parker, 12; Bryan, 1. New York: Parker, 30. North Carolina: Parker, 15; Bryan, 8.

North Dakota: Bryan, 10. Ohio: Parker, 23; Bryan, 19. Oklahoma: Bryan, 20. Oregon: Parker, 12; Bryan, 1. Pennsylvania: Bryan, 67; Parker, 8. Rhode Island: Parker, 10. South Carolina: Bryan, 18. South Dakota: Bryan, 10. Tennessee: Parker, 17; Bryan, 7. Texas: Bryan, 40. Utah: Parker, 4; Bryan, 4. Vermont: Parker, 14; Bryan, 19. Washington: Bryan, 11. West Virginia: Parker, 9; Bryan, 6. Wisconsin: Bryan, 26. Wyoming: Bryan, 6. Alaska: Parker, 4; Bryan, 2. District of Columbia: Parker, 6. Hawaii: Parker, 4; Bryan, 2. Philippines: Parker, 4; Bryan, 2. Porto Rico: Bryan, 4; Parker, 2.

OPENING OF NIGHT SESSION.

But a scattering attendance appeared in the galleries at eight o'clock, the hour set for the convention. There were hundreds of vacant seats in the delegates' sections. Scattered handclapping greeted Chairman Parker as he made his way up the middle aisle through the groups of delegates.

The soft rain that fell at intervals all day set in again toward midnight, adding to the humid heat, and the atmosphere of the hall was oppressive.

The best seat in the house, to have its effect and delegates and spectators straggled over their coats and rolled up their shirt sleeves, ready for the night session.

At 8:25 Chairman Mack dropped his gavel and the night session was on. The Rev. W. M. Dame of Baltimore then delivered the prayer. "The congregation will join in the Lord's Prayer," he said, in conclusion, and the "congregation" really did.

Mr. Mack introduced again Judge Parker and the temporary chairman resumed the speech which this afternoon was interrupted.

In opening, Judge Parker commented on the republican convention at Chicago, where, he said, the words "liar," "corrupt," "traitor," "thief" were freely used.

BRYAN'S NAME BRINGS CHEERS.

"We will have nothing like that in this convention," he said. "We had a little difference here this afternoon, but there was nothing said by any one in that difference that was intended to be severe. If I thought that the chief speaker to-day was a little harsh, I remembered the three great struggles he made for the Democratic party in this country."

A burst of applause and a shout of "Bryan, Bryan," interrupted the speaker. "I realize that this meant much to him," continued Mr. Parker, "and if he was mistaken in regard to my position I believe it is your duty and mine to forgive it, and to stand with him."

"There is one place where he is wanted, where he is capable of rendering great service. That is the chairmanship of the resolutions committee. I hope and believe that every member of that committee will honor himself by casting his vote for Mr. Bryan for chairman."

While Judge Parker was earnestly arguing the tariff question a photographer climbed upon the edge of the platform and set off a flashlight that exploded loudly almost in the speaker's face. Parker hesitated, a loud "Oh!" swept the crowd and the photographer dashed out followed by a gale of laughter.

APPLAUSE FOR SPEECH. When Judge Parker concluded he was given a round of applause. A resolution then was introduced by Joseph E. Bell of Indiana, providing that the rules of the last democratic convention should govern this year's convention. It went through under the gavel.

On motion of George W. Green of Rhode Island the usual committees were provided for and it was decided to have the committees meet immediately after adjournment to-night.

An attempt to adjourn the convention until two o'clock to-morrow afternoon failed, and at 9:55 an adjournment was taken.

URGE BRYAN TO ACCEPT.

Lincoln, Neb., June 25.—Nebraska supporters of William J. Bryan to the number of 120 today sent him a telegram at Baltimore in which they urged him not to refuse the presidential nomination.

The Baltimore convention will be held in the city of Baltimore, Md., on Monday, June 26, at 10 o'clock a. m. It is important that the Baltimore convention nominate a candidate upon whom all progressives can unite. Knowing the implicit confidence and esteem in which you are held by the great body of the common people of the country, we, the undersigned citizens of Nebraska, take this means of urging that you do not discontinue or refuse to accept the nomination at the hands of the convention."

LABOR ENTERS POLITICS.

Workmen's Political League Organized Sunday Afternoon.

Several hundred members of organized labor met Sunday afternoon in Carpenter's hall and formed the Workmen's Political League. Discarding all political lines, the working people of this city, amid much enthusiasm, decided to enter politics in their own behalf, supporting only laboring men for political preferment hereafter.

Beside talks by the American Federation organizers along the line of the laboring men entering politics, a general discussion followed, led by Arthur J. Cayo, the consensus of opinion being that the time was ripe for the success of their aims. The following committee was elected to draw up a preamble, constitution and by-laws: Arthur J. Cayo, J. I. Fugere, Thomas Kelley.

The Workmen's Political League is a new move by laboring men in this section. The promoters of the league intend that no restrictions be placed on conditions of membership; all workmen, organized or unorganized, who believe in the aims and who are in sympathy with the cause, are eligible.

The organization heartily endorsed J. I. Fugere for alderman from the fourth ward and promised to do all in their power to elect him. A. Armstrong was unanimously endorsed by the league as a senatorial candidate.

DEDICATION AT WESTFORD.

Soldiers' Monument Gift to Town of John and H. W. Allen.

Westford, June 25.—At the dedication July 4 of the monument in honor of the soldiers who went from Westford to the battlefields of the Civil War, the unveiling will be done by the Misses Nebraska, H. Macon and Mildred McNail. The presentation of the statue to the town will be made by Heman W. Allen of Burlington. The address will be delivered by the Hon. C. S. Palmer of Burlington, and remarks will be made by ex-Gov. E. A. Woodbury, Captain H. O. Wheeler, Prof. J. E. Goodrich of Burlington, Dr. C. M. Ferris of Essex Junction, Capt. Frank Kenfield of Morrisville, and Col. Henry O. Clark of Milton. Miss Anna Partridge will read an original poem. The exercises will begin at 1:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The monument, surmounted by the figure of the Rev. John H. Woodward of the 1st Vt. cavalry, known as "The Fighting Chaplain," is the gift of John and H. W. Allen, both natives of the town.

Mr. Woodward was locally known as "Priest Woodward" and after he entered the army he soon earned the name of "The Fighting Chaplain." That he was rightly named is assured by the testimony of the men who served in the regiment and by the official history of the organization. He was in the front during skirmishes and heavier engagements and he went with the men on raids and scouting expeditions. On one occasion he emptied his revolver at the enemy and when his men asked him why he did so he replied that he "looked after his own boys in one way and after the souls of the rebels in another manner."

Mr. Woodward with a certain copiousness of the tongue overtook a party of confederates and two of the party took refuge in a house. The chaplain found a man's feet sticking out from under a bed and with characteristic humor said, "Come out, Jonathan, I want you." He found the other man in an adjoining room took him prisoner and reformed the regiment with him.

Affliction came to him in the death of his son, Capt. John W. Woodward, who commanded a company of the 1st Vt. cavalry, Co. M, very soon after the battle of Gettysburg. He was shot and instantly killed in a skirmish with the retreating confederates. Captain Woodward and just heard of the death of his promised bride and his men say that apparently he lost all desire to live as soon as the news reached him. Of the one hundred and eight men who are credited to the town of Westford only three are living in town and of the whole number probably not a score are left alive.

WHEN THE MERCURY STARTS.

Green—Haven't any chickens. I get up with the thermometer.—Exchange.

WHO WOULD BE NEXT PRESIDENT

Duty of House of Representatives to Elect if None of Three Candidates Wins.

Washington, June 24.—The three important candidates for the presidency, those of President Taft, ex-President Roosevelt, and the democratic candidate to be nominated at Baltimore this week, present the possibility that none may receive a majority of the votes in the electoral college. In that case the next president will be chosen by the House of Representatives, the delegation from each State having one vote, a majority of all to elect, and no other candidate to be voted for than the three who lead in the electoral college.

These conditions would bring about an extraordinary situation, for the State delegations in the present House of Representatives number 21 democratic, 22 republican, and 13 divided evenly. The evenly divided delegations are those of Maine, Nebraska and Rhode Island. These three States would apparently hold the balance of power, and how they would vote is, in the circumstances, an interesting subject for speculation. If the republican States divided between Taft and Roosevelt, the 22 democratic States, being less than a majority, could not elect a president. The constitution says nothing about half votes, but if one-half of one vote from each of the three equally divided States were added to the democratic roll the democrats would have 21½ votes, electing their candidate by one-half of one vote.

The vice-president would be chosen by the United States Senate, and would be a republican, the present division of the Senate being 51 republicans and 41 democrats.

The provision for the election of a president in this contingency is contained in the 12th amendment to the constitution of the United States, and is as follows: "The person having the highest number of votes in the electoral college for president shall be the president, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors appointed; and if no person have such majority, then from the persons having the highest numbers, not exceeding three, on the list of those voted for as president, the House of Representatives shall choose immediately, by ballot, the president. But in choosing the president, the vote shall be taken by States, the representation from each State having one vote; a quorum for this purpose shall consist of a majority of the States, from two-thirds of the States, and a majority of all the States shall be necessary to a choice."

"And if the House of Representatives shall not choose a president, whenever the right of choice shall devolve upon them, before the fourth day of March next following, then the vice-president shall act as president, as in the case of the death or other constitutional disability of the president."
